UNCLE SAM LAUNCHES HIS NEWEST FIGHTING CRAFT, THE MIGHTIEST AFLOAT

In Size and Gun Power the New Superdreadnaught Pennsylvania Eclipses Even the Queen Elizabeth, England's Great Vessel Leading the Dardanelles Attack.

Newport News, Va., March 16.—When the new super-dreadnaught Pennsylvania slipped from the ways into the historic waters of Hampton Roads here today she took her place in the lead of the navies of the world as the mightiest fighting machine afloat.

Christened by Miss Elizabeth Kolb of Germantown, Pa., as Secretary Daniels gave a signal, the monster hull slid into the James river and the swell tossed the German converted cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, less than 100 yards away.

Commander Thierbach, commander of the sea rider, sat in full uniform with the official party on the platform and mingled with American naval officers throughout the ceremony.

In size and gun power the Pennsylvania is greater even than the Queen Elizabeth of the British navy, which led the recent terrific assault on the allies on the Dardanelles. While the British monster carries larger guns, her main battery is only two-thirds the size of that of the Pennsylvania in number and the American battleship is 3,000 tons greater in size.

The main battery of the Pennsylvania will consist of twelve 14-inch, 45 calibre rifles, set in four turrets, three guns to a turret, the plan of the big gun arrangement adopted in the sister ships which preceded her, the Nevada and Oklahoma. Her tonnage measurement is 31,400 against 27,500 for the Nevada and Oklahoma and the Queen Elizabeth. The latter, however, carries eight 15-inch rifles, 45 calibre, set two to a turret, while the Nevada and Oklahoma have ten 14-inch rifles each in two 3-gun and 2-gun turrets. In all these ships, including the Pennsylvania, the turrets are all on the center line to concentrate their fire on either broadside.

Five battleships of the British navy yet to be launched will have less tonnage than the Pennsylvania, the ships of the Royal Sovereign class being of 24,500 tons displacement, and none will equal the Pennsylvania in armament. Each is designed to carry eight 15-inch guns.

Details of four other British battleships, already authorized, are not known here officially.

Five ships of the Japanese navy estimated for 1914 and with their displacement of 30,000 tons, but will carry the same main battery of twelve 14-inch rifles. They will exceed the Pennsylvania in speed, estimates calling for 23 knots against 21 knots for the Pennsylvania.

Ships of the California class will have turbine engines and the other reciprocating in line with the navy department's policy of not entirely abandoning the reciprocating type until a thoroughly satisfactory marine turbine is found. If the experiment on the California with electric drive, current to be generated by steam turbines running at high speed, is successful, the engine problem may be solved. It already has proved satisfactory in a navy collier and the experiment with the California only needs to be repeated whether it is equally efficient in high power plants.

British Field Marshals.
A British field marshal never retires from the army. He may be placed on half pay, but is still borne on the active list. By the regulations there must not be more than eight field marshals receiving pay as such—that is, exclusive of honorary field marshals, such as foreign kings, emperors and princes. Of the eight regular field marshals two must be selected from the Indian army. The position of field marshal is a great one. The field marshal commanding in chief in the Mediterranean gets £5,000 a year. Probably a field marshal actively employed will get at least £3,000 a year. This is better than the pay of an admiral of the fleet, who may be said to be a naval field marshal, and gets only a little over £2,000 a year, exclusive of allowances—Irish's Own.

Napoleon's Name.
A Greek scholar called attention to a very curious coincidence about the name of Napoleon. If you take away the first letter of his name you have "napoleon" take away the first letter of that word and you have "napoleon" do this successively down to the last syllable, and you have "leon," "con" and "on." Put these several words together in this order, Napoleon on oleon leon on apoleon poleon, and you have a Greek phrase the literal translation of which is "Napoleon, being the lion of peoples, went about destroying cities."

The Dear Girl.
"I don't like my new gown very well," said the young lady recently. "The material is awfully pretty and the style is all right, but it needs something to improve the shape of it."
"Why?" suggested her dearest friend, "don't you let some other girl wear it?"—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Not an Admirer.
"Your husband loves horses, doesn't he?"
"No," replied young Mrs. Torkins. "But he is always going to the races."
"Yes. But the way he talks about the horses after he gets home is something dreadful."—Washington Star.

Deductions.
"I rejected both Jack and William last night."
"I know it. I saw them shaking hands on the golf links this morning."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Pernambuco.
Pernambuco means "the mouth of hell," in addition to the violent surf that is always seen at the mouth of its chief river.

YALE MISSIONARY WILL BE NEXT SPEAKER FOR PRESBYTERIAN SERIES

Hon. Amos Parker Wilder, former consul general to China and now in this country representing the great Yale Mission of China, will be the next speaker in the series of Lenten services at the People's Presbyterian church next Sunday night at 7:30 under the auspices of the Men's club.

Mr. Wilder is an authority on the new and young republic of the far east. He was consul general to China during the Boxer uprising and the manner in which he handled the interests of this country during that period has made him one of the most influential consuls ever sent to China.

This service is the fifth in the series given by the Men's club. There will be special music and one of the city's best soloists will sing, whose name will be announced later. A most cordial invitation is extended to all men and women of the city to come out and hear this great man involved in a great work.

Man Killed On Tracks May Have Been Resident Of This City, Say Police

The body of an unidentified man, possibly belonging in Bridgeport, has been picked up beside the railroad tracks near Port Chester, New York, in a horribly mutilated condition. Though he was probably a train, the actual cause of death has not been ascertained and the only means of identifying him is a slip of paper bearing the initials "Y. M. C. A." 882 Main street, Bridgeport, found upon a torn piece of memorandum book paper in his pocket.

At the local Y. M. C. A. where inquiry was made by the police it was said that he may have either come from New York in answer to an advertisement inserted in New York papers for Russian workmen, or was returning to that city. He was not known to the local Y. M. C. A. heads by his description, which was to-day given by Chief of Police James Donovan of Port Chester in a letter to the local police authorities, as: "Probable laborer, five feet two inches in height, weighing 135 pounds; light hair; wore gray overcoat; gray sweater; blut suit brown soft hat and button shoes. The body will be held until Friday at Port Chester, awaiting identification."

Armed Guards Watch Over Body of Mrs. John D. Rockefeller

Tarrytown, N. Y., March 16.—Two armed guards kept watch today over the body of Mrs. John D. Rockefeller in the mausoleum of Golden Age, in the Sleepy Hollow cemetery here. It was said that guards would be kept on duty until arrangements for the permanent burial had been completed.

Mr. Rockefeller owned a home in the Lakeview cemetery in Cleveland, but it was said that he might decide to have a vault constructed here.

Shaft of Battleship Connecticut Breaks During War Manoeuvres

Washington, March 16.—The battleship Connecticut broke one of her shafts last Sunday while manoeuvring in Guantanamo bay, and now is bound for Philadelphia under her own power, conveyed by the naval collier Orion. The hull of the Connecticut is uninjured, and no one was hurt.

Nineteen of Dresden's Crew Missing Reports British Ship Captain

Valparaiso, Chile, March 16.—Nineteen members of the crew of the German cruiser Dresden, sunk off Juan Fernandez Island on Sunday by British warships, are missing. This number is known on the arrival here today of the British auxiliary cruiser Orama, having on board the survivors from the Dresden, some of whom were wounded.

STOCK MARKET

New York, March 16.—Specialists were again more prominent than the active or seasoned investors at the outset of today's stock market operations. The minor copper, Alaska Gold, Central Leather and Motor shares made general gains, while leaders were slightly lower or unchanged. Later Bethlehem Steel and Texas Co., were added to the list of higher prices, the former advancing two points. Reading's uncertain course reflected current gossip connected with its future dividend prospects. Some very substantial recessions were recorded by our stocks in London, notably Canadian Pacific, Reading and Union Pacific. Reading became acutely weak toward midday, declining two points to 142 3/8 on steady selling, much of which was ascribed to out of town sources. The rest of the list was sympathetically affected. Specialties fell back easily and the activities of the short interest became more pronounced. Bonds were lower, several large blocks of the New York Central debentures 6's selling at lowest prices.

TRINITY CHURCH TO HAVE FANNY CROSBY MEMORIAL

R., Daughters of Veterans, Spanish War Veterans and Women's auxiliaries, United Boys' Brigade, Boys' Scouts and all patriotic societies have been invited to attend.

Crosby was a member of the Women's Relief Corps. It is planned to erect a memorial to Miss Crosby in Mount Grove cemetery.

Repairs are now being made to the Prinz Eitel Friedrich, the German commerce raider that put into Newport News, Va., after sinking eleven ships, including the American bark, William F. Frye. The government has given her a definite time in which to make repairs and coal and take on provisions. This period of grace is kept an official secret, as is the expiration of this time she will be interned.
